

Kristen Westcott

Kristen Westcott is a business growth strategist and founder of Kristen Westcott Media who helps online coaches, copywriters and course creators scale without the frustration that massive growth often brings. After honing her skills as a Director of Operations, Kristen recognized that what was holding many entrepreneurs back wasn't a lack of drive or ability, but a lack of foundational systems that support the day-to-day operations of a scaling business.

Now, she spends her time helping entrepreneurs focus on the right things so they can spend more of their time stepping into the role of visionary leader.
